TO BRING JAPANESE BASEBALL NINE HERE

Oahu League Arranges for Series of Games With Wasedas.

The crack baseball team of Waseda University, Japan, will be invited to visit Honolulu next month for a series of twelve games with the four Oahu league teams and St. Louis College. This was definitely decided upon at the meeting of the Oahu league last night in the office of Charles F. Chillingworth. Arrangements will be made to get the Japanese nine here in time to have the first game on Sunday, July 3, at Athletic Park, and another one will be played on Monday, the fourth.

The Waseda and Keio teams are the strongest in Japan. The Wasedas passed through here about five years ago on the way to the coast, where they played Stanford and California Universities. Since then the University of Washington went to Japan and played the Wasedas and the Keios, and was defeated by them. Mike Fisher's all Americans also went up against these veterans, and nearly all the American war vessels that have paid a visit to the mikado's land can testify as to the baseball ability of the little brown men who are coming here to cross bats with the Honolulu.

Quite a number of the Japanese residents of this city are graduates of Waseda University, and they are highly elated over the prospect of meeting their own college men here.

ATHERTON RICHARDS WINS TENNIS FINALS

Youngster Beats Captain Low Three Straight Sets, Taking Wall Cup.

Young Atherton Richards let the captain down low and not so very easy in the finish of the finals for the Wall cup yesterday at the Beretania courts. The youngster took two straight sets, the first six to three and the second six to two. He won the last of the three sets played Wednesday afternoon, which makes him the winner of three out of the five played, the captain only beating the first two.

Captain Low did not play up to his usual form in the first part of the games yesterday afternoon. Once he purposely let a ball pass him, thinking it was going to strike beyond bounds, but it didn't. In one game Richards scored three times on the captain's serves. Each time Low failed to land either ball inside the line. He braced up when he could, however, and did some very neat placing of the ball, but all through the last set he had very little time for calculation, for his opponent kept him on the jump from one side of the court to the other and forward and back. The young champion seemed to be able to place the ball about anywhere he chose.

Both players spent most of their time covering the back line and kept the ball in the air, each sparring for openings to place it somewhere out of the other's reach.

In the first set Richards won the first game and lost the second, won the next three, lost the sixth, won the seventh, lost the eighth and won the ninth.

In the second set he won the first three, lost the next two and won the next three, giving him the trophy.

FOOTBALL TEAM IS COMING FROM COAST

Local football heroes may have a chance to clean up the whole Coast at a rush before the month is over if they get busy at once. A picked team from the leading Coast colleges will touch-down here about the 27th of May, en route to Australia, and it is possible that it could be induced to put up a game with the Honolulu heavyweights. Arrangements have been completed for the University of California, Stanford University and the University of Nevada combined to send a football team to Australia and New Zealand during the coming summer, under a guarantee provided by the New South Wales Rugby Union.

The team will be managed by D. W. Burlbank, graduate manager of Stanford University. There will be twenty-three players and the coach and trainer. There will be two players from the University of Nevada, ten from Stanford University and eleven from the University of California. The names of the players will be announced by D. W. Burlbank, manager of the trip, as soon as the final selection of men is made. The team which will represent the Coast universities will be the strongest one which it is possible to get together for this international trip. The schedule of the trip is as follows:

Leave San Francisco about May 17; leave Vancouver May 20; arrive Brisbane June 11; play at Brisbane (Queensland) June 18 and 22; play at Sydney (New South Wales) June 25, 29, July 2, 6; play at Wellington July 10; play at Christchurch July 20; play at Dunin (New Zealand) July 23; play at Wellington (New Zealand) July 27; play at Auckland August 2 to catch Vancouver steamer at Suva; arrive Vancouver August 23.

This is the most important trip ever undertaken by a team representing the Pacific Coast universities. The financial burden is to be borne entirely by the New South Wales Rugby Union. The trip is made possible through the visit of the Wallabies team a year ago last fall and the courtesies shown to them by the various clubs and universities of the Coast, and later by the visit of W. J. Howe, assistant coach of the University of California.

The team will sail on the C.A. steamer Makura, which is due at Honolulu on May 27.

CADET LYMAN HELPS DEFEAT YALE VARSITY

Cadet Lyman of Hilo made his Hawaiian sporting blood count in the annual baseball game between the West Point team and the Yale varsity nine on the National Academy diamond Wednesday, April 29. According to an Associated Press despatch, young Lyman played catcher on the cadet team and helped shut out the Blues with a score of 3 to 0.

Lyman was the star catcher on the Punahou team until last year when he entered the military academy at West Point. In part the despatch says:

Timely hitting on the part of the cadets brought in the three runs scored. Tommers pitched a good game for the New Haven college, allowing but six safe drives, but they came at opportune times. Yale could do little with Hyatt, especially when there was any chance of a score. Both teams played fast ball in the field.

West Point 3 0 0 1 0 0 1 1 —3 6 2
Batteries: Hyatt and Lyman; Tommers and Stillwell. Umpires Melvin and Palsifer.

WITHINGTON NUMBER FOUR ON HARVARD CREW

CAMBRIDGE, Massachusetts, May 1.—A change was made in the order of the Harvard varsity crew Wednesday afternoon, when it took to the water for the first time since the Annapolis race last Thursday. Lothrop Withington, Jr., of Honolulu, the football captain, who has done practically no rowing this spring, replaced Hooper at No. 4, the latter going in at No. 6 on the second.

HARVARD LOSES RUNNER.

The Harvard varsity team, which lost the service of another promising point winner Wednesday, when H. G. G. was forced to give up training. There is no chance of his being able to resume work in time for the final meet with Dartmouth, and his prospects of again running this year are not very good.
